

CANNeCTIN is a national network funded by CIHR/CFI to support the development, implementation, sustainability and health impact of Canadian-led clinical research studies in cardiac and vascular disease and diabetes. CANNeCTIN includes investigators from 19 academic centres across Canada, as well as an international network of over 1500 centres.

REGISTER NOW: 2012 Sensible Guidelines Symposium: May 24-25, Toronto

For online registration click here

McMaster, Duke and Oxford Universities and the Canadian Institutes for Health Research (CIHR) would like to invite you to attend the 3rd Symposium on Sensible Guidelines for the Conduct of Clinical Trials - an exciting symposium to be held May 24/25, 2012, at The Sutton Place hotel in Toronto. The goals of the 2012 Sensible Guidelines Symposium are to debate and discuss study designs that could improve the efficiency of clinical trials, and to review emerging and existing barriers to the conduct of clinical trials. It is our hope that through these symposia and the ensuing publications, we can spur researchers and research stakeholders to work together to challenge the current environment.

Confirmed speakers include: David DeMets, Martin Landray, Patrick Archdeacon, Jackie Bosch, Jim Neaton, Steve Pyke, Alvaro Avezum, Rafael Diaz, Trudie Lang, Karen Sliwa, Ann Meeker-O'Connell, Christopher Corsico, Nancy Roach, David Sackett, Richard Peto, John Eikelboom, Janet Wittes, PJ Devereaux, Keith Fox, Ian Roberts, Jeremy Farrar, Rory Collins, Salim Yusuf, Louise Bowman, Jack Tu, Prem Pais, Joe Pater, Hideki Hanaoka, and Chris Granger.

NOTE: Registration Fees for this Symposium are $100 CDN (academic/non-profit rate); $50 CDN (students/fellows); $400 CDN (industry/for-profit). Everyone is welcome to attend.

More information, including an agenda, and online registration and payment can be found here.

Email us: CANNeCTIN@phri.ca
CANNeCTIN website: www.connectin.ca
McMaster University - Hamilton Health Sciences

Join Our Mailing List!